Timecard WebXpress™

Web-Based Time & Labor Management Solution Solutions from CTR Systems

Overview

Timecard WebXpress gives companies an easy way to automate their workforce management processes. Accessible from any computer with Internet access, Timecard WebXpress provides the tools to know exactly where and how your workforce dollars are spent. Supervisors can run reports against employee data to perform job costing, control departmental costs, monitor staffing, track benefit administration and more.

Employees can clock in and out, check can clock in and out, transfer labor hours, submit time sheets, check benefit accruals and review hours worked. This data is immediately saved in the Timecard WebXpress database where it is available to managers for access to real-time workforce data. The application then exports labor data to financial, accounting or ERP systems to complete the payroll process.

Whether you prefer a licensed or hosted solution, Timecard WebXpress offers you the flexibility to automate your labor management processes with speed and accuracy.
