CTR SYSTEMS, KHAMELEON SOFTWARE ANNOUNCE INTEGRATION PARTNERSHIP

PITTSBURGH (October 19, 2010) — CTR Systems Inc. and Khameleon Software today announced a new partnership which will integrate two popular business software systems to save companies time and money.

CTR Systems specializes in providing payroll, human resources, and time and attendance applications and services. Khameleon Software offers project-management software to help businesses track a job through multiple processes to ensure timely completion.

CTR and Khameleon's integration will enable businesses who use CTR Systems' web-based payroll and human resources applications to automatically transfer general ledger information from their payroll application to the Khameleon application, saving hours of data entry.

“As Khameleon users ourselves we experienced the frustration users face with duplicate data entry in both the payroll system and Khameleon. We are excited to offer our web-based payroll application to the Khameleon client base as a means to cut down on manual data entry as well as improve their overall payroll processes,” said Doug Duffy, president of CTR Systems.
